as to need but little further commendation from Used for many years, it has become a favorite with all consumers, and it only requires a trial to convince all of its value. The Ammonia and Bone Phosphate being in rational proportions, it can hardly fail to render satisfaction, improving the quality and increasing the crop—it adds one other most important essential in the permanent improvement of the land-in this permanent improvement of the land—in this particular we question whether it has its equal. It acts wonderfully upon the grass crop, and to such an extent as to bring improverished lands up to a high state of fertility—equalling Bone Dust. Such is the testimony of many accomplished planters.
